Were you injured on someone else's property?

What is premises liability?

Premises are land or buildings considered as property. South Carolina recognizes four classifications of people on premises to which the owner of premises owes a level of care. Those classifications are invitees, licensees, adult trespassers, and children.

Did you receive treatment for your injuries?

If not, please seek medical attention, immediately.

Did you miss any time from work because of those injuries?

If so, please document the dates and hours you have missed from work due to your injuries or while receiving treatment for those injuries.
